

ExecRecs : Executive Recommendations for the Best Products, Services, and Intelligence Executives Use to Excel

Listing executive recommendations for the best business products, services, and intelligence available in the marketplace, this guide features more than 3,000 surveys completed by C-level executives from Fortune 500 companies and other leading businesses. For those tired of reading recommendations from unknown authors and product reviewers, they can now learn from the best and brightest executives what they use to excel in the business world. Executives reveal favorite business books, trade magazines, business newspapers, PDAs, cell phones, airlines, and business information web sites. Other topics cover where to get the best career advice and the top questions managers should be asking their staffs to spur innovation.
